TOBACCO FACTORIES BURNED AT PRINCETON

DYNAMITE USED BY BAND OF DESPERATE MEN WITH GUNS

Policemen Disarmed; Fireman Locked Up By the Mob

One hundred or more armed men entered Princeton last Saturday morning and armed every person found on the streets, locked up the fire department, muzzled the telephone force, drove guards and officers away and proceeded to burn two big tobacco warehouses. The burning of the warehouses also burned two or three houses.

The warehouses were owned by J. A. Stegar and J. G. Orr. The John Orr building and fixtures are estimated at over $25,000 and partially insured. About 250,000 pounds of tobacco was in the building covered by insurance. The Stegar factory including fixtures was valued at $15,000 with $1000 insurance. About 150,000 pounds of tobacco was in the stemmery covered by insurance. Mr. Orr represented the Imperial Tobacco Co., and Mr. Stegar represented Gallaher Limited Co. The Orr factory was built in 1884 and the Stegar factory was built in 1885.

The night riders responsible for this terrible calamity to Princeton are as yet unknown. They were masked. They rode to the fair grounds and hitched their horses, leaving about twenty-five men to guard them. They then marched to the work they had set out for execution. It was all planned like clock work. They divided into groups, each group having a particular duty to perform. They took charge of the telephone, telegraph and water works. All citizens who were out were put under guard.

Married Thursday

Mr. W. D. Baird and Miss Laura Donkey were married Thursday evening, Dec. 6, 1906, at seven o'clock at the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Miss Delta Barnes was maid of honor and Mr. Ed Maxwell, of Providence, was best man. Messrs. T. H. Cochran, J. H. Orme, J. W. Wilson and Ollie Tucker were the ushers.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Harriet Donkey and is a very charming young lady.

The groom is a well known tobacco man, having engaged in that business in this and other cities. He has always done all he could to help the town in every way.

The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens' palms and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. They left immediately after the ceremony for Nashville and Murfreesboro, Tenn., where they will visit their sister. They will be at home to their friends Monday, Dec. 10.

Five Good Shows

The Wells-Bijou theatre in Evansville offers the strongest hat of bill for the coming week ever booked in that city, beginning Sunday, Dec. 9th, they will have the successful comedy, "Lovers and Lunatics," for three nights at popular prices. Wednesday, The Roger Bros. in Ireland, Thursday, Frank Daniels in Sergeant Brue, Friday, Amelia Ellington in her new play, "The Lilac Bloom," and Saturday matinee and night, Mabel Montgomery in "Zaza." Special provisions are made for the convenience of out-of-town patrons of the house.

Mrs. Gugenheim Entertains

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gugenheim very delightfully entertained a number of friends last Thursday evening at a dinner in honor of Mr. W. D. Baird and Miss Laura Donkey.

Mrs. H. H. Sayre won the ladies' love hand prize and Miss Haase first prize. Mr. R. F. Haynes won the gentlemen's love hand prize, Mr. Geo. Roberts first prize and Mr. Sayre the consolation.

An elegant two course lunch was served.

Exhibition at the Christian Church

The great Sunday School worker, Rob Hopkins, will be at the Christian church Friday night, Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. He will give a magic lantern exhibition free. Everybody come, one and all. Bring the little ones, interesting to the old as well as the young.

Moved to Texas

George H. Crider and family left for Texas last Tuesday. They have been delayed on account of sickness. They will make Canyon City, Texas their future home. This place is eighteen miles from Amarillo and five miles from the home of Miss Bell Stewart, who married the sheriff of that county.

Mr. Crider will go into business with Mr. John Wallace, who visited Crittenden county last summer. They will do a real estate and insurance business. This is the county where McGill Bros. and Sam Martin, of Union county, invented so much money. McGill Bros. bought seven sections of land and while there the last time were offered $12000 profit and refused it.

Canyon City was incorporated in this year, 1896, and contains 1500 to 2000 inhabitants. They have five good churches and few sidewalks.

It is said that the county judge of this county is a young man by the name of Henritte and that he owns ten sections of that land most of it bought at $1 per acre. Today he could close out his holdings and have $150,000 all made in less than ten years.

The air in this country is perfectly pure. Nearly every morning between the hours of nine and eleven there is visible a mirage which looks like a sea of water of about 10,000 acres. Also cattle grazing which look to be fifteen to fifty feet high. The latitude at this point is 36°44' feet.

A NEW COMPANY

The Nine Acre Mining Company a New Organization

A new mining company has been organized under the above title to exploit a tract of land located on the Columbia vein and known as the Nine Acre, but which really contains 100 acres.

This is owned by Messrs. Blue & Nunn, of this place.

This property is located near the Crittenden Springs Hotel. A shaft has been sunk on this property to a depth of 100 feet and an air shaft 54 feet deep.

The Sanders Ore Separating Co., of this city have demonstrated by actual work that their patented process of ore separation is not only economical but especially adapted to ore of this district. That company has just completed a test run on ten tons of ore from the Nine Acre property and report a daily profit of $207.15 on a 50 ton operation. The ore used in this test was largely the residue on the dump after the choice ore had been picked out and shipped. A cross section sample on the vein at the bottom of shaft shown by assay 20 per cent. zinc.

The plans of this new mining company can be ascertained by correspondence with Messrs. Blue & Nunn, of Marion, Ky.

Congress Convened Last Monday

The short session of Congress convened last Monday. Among other things their labors will no doubt include regulation of swollen fortunes by inheritance or income tax.

Tariff revision.

Currency reform.

Limiting the hours of railway employes.

Prohibiting child labor.

Porto Rico citizenship.

Ship subsidy.

Immigration restriction.

Lower tariff against Philippine goods.

Enlarged navy, mammoth battleships.

River and harbor improvement.

Night-hour bill.

Anti-injunction bill.

Smoot case.

Santo Domingo treaty.

Publicity for campaign expenses.

Chinese and Japanese exclusion.

Federal insanity laws.

Parcel posts.

Postal banks.

Married at Elizabethtown

Mr. W. U. Howerton and Miss Hattie Anderson were united in marriage at the residence of Mr. George Ledbetter in Elizabethtown, Ill., Thursday Nov. 29.

Miss Anderson lived at Weston and is a charming young lady.

Mr. Howerton is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Howerton, of Repton neighborhood. He has been connected with the International Harvester Co. for the past few years and is a fine business man.

Mr. and Mrs. Howerton will make their home at present with his parents. The recent joins their many friends in wishing them a long and prosperous life.

PROSPECTING IN THE WEST

David Hodge Franks of Cripple Creek Colorado

On the 3rd of last September a western miner, of the regulation type with pants in his boots and gold dust in his hair, left the sulphur gum at Crittenden Springs, mounted his horse and wended his way to Marion, Crittenden county, Kentucky. As he rode along he passed the old Bobby Moore place (everybody knows where that is) and as he passed the sound of the axe arrested his attention. He stopped his horse and calling the man by name said, "I see you are clearing up your ground. Forty-eight years ago today my grandfather cleared up this same spot on which you are working. Fifty-two years ago this very day I was born. My name is Dave Franks, of Cripple Creek, Colorado. Good day."

Mr. David Franks moved to Colorado in June, 1894 and during these years among other things has organized three good mining ventures. One is "The Gold Quartz," one "The Gold Dust," of Cripple Creek, and the hot one is "The Old Kentucky Mining and Milling Co., property of Mancos, Colo.

Mr. Dave Franks has two boys that are doing well. Ernest Franks is running a machine drill in Cripple Creek for $20 per month and Robert Franks is a stenographer for the Green Consolidated Copper Co., of Cananea, Mexico, for $100 per month.

The Old Mining & Milling Co. spoken of above is corporation containing quite a number of Kentucky people. Among the number we might mention J. W. McCulloch, W. J. Deloe, E. T. Franks, Josh Griffith, Mr. Reinhardt and Mr. F. A. Van Renzeler.

This mine is located in Colorado about thirty miles from where Arizona, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico corner. By the way, this is the only place in the United States where there is such a corner. This mine is one of the largest in Colorado. The property produces gold, silver, copper and lead and comprises 230 acres. A tunnel has been drilled 400 feet into the mountain and then a shaft was sunk 300 feet. The vein averages seven feet wide and there is 4500 feet of it at the surface. The ore is shipped to the smelter at Durango.

Mr. Franks also owns some individual properties and some prospects at Bull Frog, Nevada. He stated to a reporter that he would not come back to Kentucky to live for the best position or the best business in Kentucky and that his wife, who is a half sister of R. E. Flanary, of Marion, would not come back at all.

A. B. JARVIS

Independent Tobacco Buyer Makes the Following Statement

The following statement was published in the Courier Journal of Dec. 5th, and is a correction:

"The statement in these dispatches yesterday that there are trust plants at Kuttawa and Marion was incorrect. The stemmery at Kuttawa is operated by A. B. Jarvis and is an independent plant. There are two stemmerys at Marion, both independent, one of them operated by Mr. Jarvis and the other by Dr. R. L. Moore, A. R. Dunbar.

Mr. J. H. Orme Entertained

Mr. James Huston Orme entertained a number of his friends at six o'clock dinner Friday evening, November 30.

The dinner consisted of six courses. First, oyster cocktail, salad, olives and crackers; second, birds on toast, with French peas and scalloped oysters; third, turkey with oyster dressing, creamed potatoes, hot biscuits and coffee; fourth, pumpkin tart, stuffed dates and pickled peaches; fifth, brickie cream and cake.

Those who enjoyed these good things were: Messrs. W. D. Baird, G. C. Gray, H. Woods, S. G. Gugenheim, T. H. Haase, T. J. Yandell, W. H. McElroy, G. M. Crider, S. M. Jenkins, W. G. Clifton, T. H. Cochran, R. L. Orme, H. L. Cook, Ernest Carnahan and J. H. Orme.

O. H. Paris Sells Out

Mr. O. H. Paris has sold his interest in the Planing Mill to his partner, Mr. J. N. Boston, and will retire from business at present. Mr. Paris wishes to thank the public for the patronage in the past. He has not decided what he will do, but we hope he will not see fit to leave.

Notes of the Princeton Fire

We hear the echoes of dancing, card playing, receptions, etc., and think how differently everything was a few years ago in Marion. Then the only amusements were drinking whisky and killing somebody, things have changed.

About your prohibition, we have it here. Our streets are muddy and not lighted, but every Saturday night the express brings us a wagon load or two of filled jugs for private use. Don't make the mistake of trying to make angels by legislative enactment. Cannon would be used up the first month bunting jugs and jags:

Some one sends the following, but without any positive proof that the names are correct, possibly they may be guessed.

"Who was that funny old party you were speaking to just now?"

"That was my wife" (sighing deeply) "but she isn't at all funny I can tell you."

Nearly all the insurance companies have cancelled their policies on all tobacco and stemmery buildings of The American Tobacco Company, The Imperial and Gallaher Company limited in Western Kentucky. A great deal of it has been cancelled by telegram.

A man by the name of Hilliard Harris was ordered to halt. Instead of halting he pulled his freight and as he whipped around the postoffice corner at a "two nothing gait" several bullets passed through the plate glass front to the right of the door and in line of the fleeing man. He was certainly running some.

Horace Sayre, of Marion, and George Rush, of Brookport, were at the Hotel Walton, Carthage, Tenn., the other evening and were very genially made acquainted with the Carthaginians.

The next morning two very pretty girls were talking about them at the post office. One says, "Aren't those Kentucky gentlemen just lovely?" Her friend replied, "Yes indeed, and so very, so very convincing."

Charley Braswell, a Marion boy, was at Princeton and among others scaled a dwelling roof to help put out the fire. As he stuck his head over the top of the roof he saw a man with a large gun pointed directly at him. Charley reached the ground without delay and walked around the house to see how many more men with guns there were.

To his amazement he found that the man whom he thought to be a night rider was a fireman and he was pointing a hose nozzle.

It has been told on Tom Moore, the postmaster, that he was afraid to even get out of bed. Covering up his head with a very large and thick comforter rolled from one side of the bed to the other and did nothing but groan "Oh Lord!" The next morning he got up real early, about seven thirty, and on reaching the office and finding the bullet marks through the plate glass front stopped and shoved both hands in his pockets. Pausing long enough to spit about three times, he exclaimed, "Well I'll be d—d."

0-0

That "D" in Mr. Baird's name was always a sort of guess work and not until the advance notices were received did we ever really know what it stood for. On the lovers corner at the Crittenden Springs hotel he used to be called "Dear" and up at the hotel when he wouldn't serve eggs for supper it was the same letter, only a different ending and now that we really know what it is, life takes on a different hue. Of course Dunwoody is not an ordinary common, plebian name but it's a whole mouthful for all of that. There's a certain nameless charm about Dunwoody or is it Dinwiddie? anyhow either will do. William is a Dunwiddie or a Dunwoody from Dunwoody and he's all right.

Have you seen Jim Henry lately?

Resolutions Passed By Marion Bar

At a meeting of the Marion Bar Association held December 1, in the circuit court room at the call of the president, L. H. James, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, Hon. Ward Headley, of Princeton, Ky., has just completed the November term 1906, of the Crittenden Circuit Court, as special judge; and,

Whereas, the said Hon. Ward Headley has discharged the duties of the high position with signal ability, perfect impartiality, and with the utmost courtesy to the members of the bar, litigants and officers of the court;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Marion bar and officers of the court, tender to Judge Headley our sincere thanks for his uniformly kind and patient deportment while presiding over the court, and beg to assure him of our high personal esteem and great admiration for his legal ability and his kindness and impartiality continuously displayed during this entire term of the court. And we trust that our acquaintance with him, so auspiciously begun, may ripen into years of friendship.

Be it further Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this court, upon a page set apart for that purpose, and that copies of same be delivered to the county papers of Crittenden and Caldwell counties, with the request that same be published, and a copy also delivered to Hon. Ward Headley.

Resolved, that a copy of the above be given to the State Bar Association, and a copy also delivered to Hon. Ward Headley.

Resolved, that a copy of the above be given to the State Bar Association, and a copy also delivered to Hon. Ward Headley.

Resolved, that a copy of the above be given to the State Bar Association, and a copy also delivered to Hon. Ward Headley.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Simple Way to Overcome the Dangers of this Disagreeable Disease

Stomach dosing in the hope of curing catarrh of the head and throat is useless and often leads to serious stomach trouble.

Hyomei, breathed through a special inhaler that comes with every outfit, brings a medicated healing air to every part of the nose and throat, killing all catarrhal germs and soothing and easing any irritation in the mucus membrane.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, 60 cents, and Haynes & Taylor give their personal guarantee with every package that money will be refunded unless the treatment cures.

Letter From Sturgis

Sturgis, Ky., Nov. 26, 1906.

EDITOR RECORD.

Dear Sir:—From time to time I have been noticing some articles occurring under various headings from Mr. C. E. G. and Mr. R. M. F. At first I thought they were discussing the relations of the Sunday school to the common school, or from which way the most good be derived. But in the past two issues it seems the discussions have centered around the woman (why didn't they say man?) and the hog. Now I can't prove that the hog has not a scui, my interest in that animal runs in a different line, but I do say that the Sunday school needs that woman and the woman needs the Sunday school.

Ignorance may be present bliss, but the transgression of Natures laws, God's laws, or even the laws of man is not excusable nor dealt with more leniently altho committed through ignorance.

Ignorance is the great and formidable enemy of this country, which we should never tire in mustering every available force to fight.

Now what we want to do is to reach this woman and rescue her from a condition far worse than that of the said hog. The quickest and most forceful way to do this is through those children. Put them into the common schools and by dint of true, earnest teaching they will be brought into a position to see the true object of life. I say common schools, because they give thirty-five hours to one of the Sunday schools. "The Lord is not willing that one should perish." The woman's soul may be saved, but her mission is not filled. When she becomes the mother of those children the duty then becomes binding upon her that she shall direct them to the paths of true and righteous living. At the same time and aside from her own children there are others that her influence will affect. If she gropes her way through this life in ignorance and darkness, and allows her children to do the same, what good have they done?

Generous, noble spirits may be found in those destitute of so called education, but many such spirits left to struggle with ignorance and the devils of wicked men, fall never to rise.

Now Bro. Grady believes that the A. B. is the man to do the greatest part of this work. Bro. Franks believes the S. S. Superintendent is the man. I believe the man or woman in common school is the one. Give me the six year old boy for ten months in the year and seven hours a day and I will make him just what I want him to be, or at least, just what I am.

Yours,
E. JEFFREY TRAVIS.

The Original Porous Plaster

It's Alcock's, first introduced to the people sixty years ago, and today undoubtedly has the largest sale of any external remedy—millions being sold annually throughout the whole civilized world. There has been imitations, to be sure, but never has there been one to even compare with Alcock's—the world's standard external remedy.

For a weak back, cold in the chest or any local pain, the result of taking cold or overstrain, there's nothing we know of to compare with this famous plaster.

For Sale on Installment Plan.

Night lots I bought from Mrs. Nancy Young; fronts 100 feet on old Princeton road opposite old Lee house, depth 121 feet, price $40. Also 7 lots in the Reed district to the town of Marion, 80 x 120 feet, and well located and adjoining Robt. Kemp. Will sell with each lot one share stock in Reed Mining Co. Will sell at $25 per lot, payable in quarterly installments, $5 per quarter. Leins on lots retained for purchase money and interest.

Get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember it's made alone for liles—and it works with certainty and satisfaction. Itching, painful, protruding, or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Try it and see! Haynes & Taylor.

Devil Born in Muhlenberg County

Central City, Ky., Nov. 28.—According to reports current a genuine, simon-pure devil was born to a woman in Muhlenberg county.

The story goes that a preacher died recently and his widow, being an unbeliever, burned all his religious books, Bible and all, and soon after a child or devil was born to her having a full set of teeth, horns, tail, claws and a hideous head and full of taik.

He told the mother that he was the devil and had come to torment her for seven years and then she should die and go to hades. This information being considered by the mother as highly offensive and reprehensible in a son tried to smother him, but failing in this she took him to a pond and threw him in with the intent to drown him, but he swam out and followed her to the house.

And this is the story that is keeping the telephones ringing all over the country and causing many sleepless nights to the superstitious.—Ex.

A Miraculous Cure

The following statement by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed 50c and $1.00 at Haynes & Taylor.

Republican Campaign Text-Book

A departure has been made in the Republican Campaign Text-Book just issued, in that its contents are wholly devoted to live issues, and these are treated in the briefest possible way, yet comprehensively enough to include all necessary facts and figures.

First, there is a general statement of the issues of 1906, followed by a brief review of Republican legislation in general and the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress in particular. The Railroad Rate Law, Pure Food Law, Free Alcohol Law, Employers' Liability Law and the Meat Inspection portion of the Agricultural Appropriation Law are given in full, as is Chairman Tawney's clear explanation of the appropriations.

The Labor question is next fully presented, followed by Representative Watson's exposition of Anti-Trust proceedings. About one hundred pages are given to the Tariff, Agriculture and Manufactures, and the tables showing the various phases of industrial activity. Among other subjects treated under the tariff are:

Protection and Free Trade, Customs Revenue, Foreign Commerce, Home Market and Internal Trade, Wages and Prices, Export Discounts, Reciprocity, Free Trade, Revision, etc., etc.

Some half hundred tables give official and authoritative figures down to the latest possible date. The work of the president and administration is then briefly presented, the condition and status of the Philippines, the Panama Canal, the Navy, Postal Service, Irrigation, etc., etc.

The President's letter to Representative Watson concludes the work, which has a copious index of over a dozen pages.

Scattered throughout the book are quotations from President Roosevelt and other Republican leaders. Among these is the extract from Senator Hanna's speech where he used the "stand pat" expression, it being the only instance in the Text-Book where the words "stand pat" are used.

A page is given to Mr. Bryan and his view, with the comments of the New York World. A so-called "Prosperity Postscript" is added, giving treasury conditions, trade reports, etc., down to August 1.

For the first time in a political campaign, the Text-Book will have a general circulation, as together with other literature, it will be sent on receipt of one dollar by John C. Eversman, Assistant Treasurer, 1133 Broadway, New York.

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through disease, small free samples of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure, to those who are uncertain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial relief. Nothing is certain, to convincing any physical test of any article of real, genuine merit, but that article must possess true merit, else the test will convince you that it is not of any value.

Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a new white healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at $1.00. Such healing agents as oil linimentum, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petroleum. Imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat is not relieved by Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure, then it will do no good internally. Dr. Shoop's Rectorative, stomach distress, a lack of general strength, sneezing, belching,illofness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Rectorative.

For unexampled catarrh of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure

Hon. E. T. Franks

During the last few weeks, the Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, has been mentioned quite complimentary in connection with the Republican nomination for governor. West Kentucky is for him almost solidly and he has strong supporters throughout the state. Should he enter the race, he would be hard to defeat for the nomination, and when nominated, still harder to defeat in the final election. Should either Bradley, Yerkes or Harlan consent to make the race, the nomination would be his without opposition, but it is very improbable that either would accept the nomination. With these exceptions, no other man is so strong as E. T. Franks. He is a campaigner of great ability and understands the Kentucky situation thoroughly. He is also as much at home in the national political field as he is when exposing the crookedness of our state officials and the legislature. The result of the last election surprised even the Republicans of the state, and Franks gets the credit of doubling the Republican representation in Congress. He took an active part in the doubtful districts, doing more than any other man, consequently the result is credited to him.

His rise to prominence from a poor boy of Crittenden county, together with his recognized ability and force as a speaker are factors which bring him into favor at this time. He has been a man the Republicans could rely on at all times. He has entered into every campaign and can command the entire Republican strength. With the Democratic party disrupted as it is in Kentucky, his sterling qualities would draw many thousand Democratic votes. Hager cannot command the Democratic strength. Many Democrats will vote against him and many more will not vote at all.

The Republicans will not blunder by nominating Franks. We join the Crittenden Record in pledging our support to our neighbor and friend, E. T. Franks.—Livingston Echo.

A Western Wonder.

There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctors gave me up to die of consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs & colds. Now after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured." Only sure Cough and Cold cure. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor druggist, 50 and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks 1907 Almanac

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks has been compelled by the popular demand to resume the publication of his well known and popular Almanac for 1907. This splendid Almanac is now ready. It contains a new white healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at $1.00. Such healing agents as oil linimentum, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petroleum. Imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat is not relieved by Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure, then it will do no good internally. Dr. Shoop's Rectorative, stomach distress, a lack of general strength, sneezing, belching, illofness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Rectorative.

For unexampled catarrh of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

If "taken at the Sneeze Stage" Preventa—a toothsome candy Tablet—will surely and quickly check an approaching cold or lagriple. When you first catch cold, or feel it coming on; take Dr. Shoop's Preventa, and the prompt effect will certainly surprise and please you. Preventa, surely supply the proverbial "ounce of prevention." Sold in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes by Haynes & Taylor.

PARIS HAS BALLOON FAD.

New "Sport" a Favorite in the French Capital.

"It is impossible, on a fine day, to look up into the sky above Paris without seeing two or three balloons, like red or green moons, afloat against the blue."

The speaker, a member of the Aero club, resumed:

"On a September Sunday, standing by the Arc de Triomphe, I counted nine balloons afloat above my head. They were beautiful in color—scarlet, blue, gold, green, white—and nobody watched them, for they were an ordinary spectacle, like a horse or a peddler.

"The balloons, keeping together, floated past the Eiffel Tower. Then a gust of wind seized them, and they rushed with incredible rapidity towards Montmartre. You could see them dropping sand. It looked like a rope made of cloud, a rope that quickly melted against the blue sky.

"Ladies run balloons in Paris. Children go up in them. But for the expense, I believe that every Parisian would take a Sunday balloon ride."

THE DEMAND OF LABOR.

Request That Seemed at First to Favor of Extortion.

It was formerly the custom of a paper mill in Massachusetts to pay the workers semi-monthly; and the operatives having found the practice somewhat inconvenient from their standpoint, it was decided to send a delegate to the head of the firm to state their grievance. An Irishman, rather well known for his sagacity and persuasive powers, was selected for the task. He duly waited on the "boss," who said: "Well, Michael, what can I do for you?"

"If ye please, sor," said Mike, "I've been sittin as a diligate by the workers to ask a favor of ye regardin the payment of our wages."

"What do they want?"

"Sor, it is the desire of myself an' of every other man in the establishment that we receive our semi-monthly pay every week."—Lippincott's

SO UNREASONABLE.

Two pretty girls about 16 years each were confiding to each other their views upon life in general, and upon affairs of the heart in particular. The blonde had evidently been recently receiving some maternal advice, for she remarked, with a slight pout:

"I think people are just too unreasonable."

"Of course they are," the other readily agreed. "What are you talking about?"

"Why, kissing."

"Who is unreasonable about kissing?"

"Why—or—everybody. They only begin to think it's wrong for a girl to let herself be kissed when she begins to get old enough for it to be interesting."

Love and Life.

"Love is hurt with jar and fret." These words, written by the English poet years ago, sum up the truth that love, even more than friendship, can be marred and finally lost from carelessness or cruelty.

For friendship is more equable and steady, it is a matter at once of more reserve and stability; when one loves, one gives all, and so suffers utter shipwreck if things go wrong.

Love is hurt with jar and fret, and when two people come into possession of this most precious heritage they should resolve that let come what may, ill temper, harsh words and disagreements should not occur between them.

"Heat Veil" for Firemen.

One of the gravest perils which fire-fighters are constantly facing is the fierce heat. After successful trials, a newly invented "heat veil" has been introduced into practice at Cologne, Germany, where 200 men have been supplied with the appliance. The veil is made after the principle of a safety lamp, with double windows. It is composed of fibers of cane, which possess the peculiar property of retaining water for a considerable length of time. The veil is made damp before being fastened to the fireman's ordinary brass helmet.

Revival of the Bridegroom's Price.

As if the millions of evils from which the Ibrahim community is suffering are not sufficient, a new evil of a very formidable and demoralizing character, in the form of a varakashana (bridegroom's price) has appeared among us. The rich and the poor who have the good fortune of having sons have been shamelessly extorting money and concessions from the parents of the brides, irrespective of the means and circumstances of the latter, taking unduly mean advantage of the illustrious injunction that girls should be married before they attain puberty—in dian Review.

A New Idea.

In place of the tiny cards used to announce the little one's advent, "christening boxes" have now come into favor. They at least have the quality of novelty and are as dainty as one could wish. The boxes are about five inches square, and covered with white satin. Embroidered in the right hand corner is a bunch of forget-me-nots, and in the lower left-hand corner is the baby's monogram done in silver.

The box is filled with pink and white sugar-coated almonds over which is a dainty lace napkin.

SIGN WELL PAID FOR.

One Thousand Dollars a Word for Railroad Crossing Warning

At the Franklin Inn, a literary club of Philadelphia, a young poet, licking his lips, said that Conan Doyle was paid one dollar a word.

"That is nothing," said one of the leading railroad advertising men. "I know of a case where a man was paid $1,000 a word. Our line used to have at its grade crossings a very long and complicated sign that began: 'Look out for engines and cars,' and then this sign went on with a lot of regulations and warnings that would have taken five minutes to read. In a number of accident cases the claimants for damages declared that our long signs were not clear warnings. Therefore the line decided at last to get a new grade crossing sign and Judge Hanson was engaged to write it."

The sign that Judge Hanson wrote cost $1,000 a word, but it was a classic. It remains a classic. It has copied everywhere. It is as well known among us as 'Father, I can tell a lie,' or England expects every man to do his duty."

"But what was the sign?" the poet impudently.

"The sign that cost $1,000 a word, or $1,000 in all," said the railroad man, "was the famous Railroad crossing—stop, look and listen."

MIRTH IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

Dissolves Gloom and Brings Sunshine, Says Writer.

Fortunate is the family where the father is the first to see a joke and to end the mirth. In too many homes the sole share in the merriment is a wan smile, accompanied, perhaps, by a dismal remark that she doesn't much to laugh at.

Nothing helps a busy housewife through her press of cares like the ability to laugh long and heartily. A humorous rhyme, a conundrum, or a smart repartee cheer up a dull day wonderfully, especially when it comes from "mother," for it is she from whom the rest of the family are apt to take their cue.

The appetite for fun may be coaxed to grow with what it feeds on, until the housewife may transform her home into an abode of mirth and sunshine, the envy of dull and grumbly households.—Exchange.

Braved Danger from Sharks. In Pacific waters commander Gambier met the great Bishop Selwyn of New Zealand. His missionary yacht, the Southern Cross, touched a coral reef when entering the harbor of Port of France, New Caledonia. It became necessary to examine her bottom, but the sharks were so numerous and so daring that nobody would venture into the water. So the master, who held that if a man would stand on a shark he could sheer off, went overboard himself with a long, sharp knife in his mouth for defense, and, diving under his vessel, ascertained the damage. He then came on board our ship, and we arranged to careen the yacht sufficiently to enable him to nail on some copper sheets, which he did himself, again spending a long time in the water. For some curious reason not a single shark had sight all the time."

Chinese Gambler's Penance. A Chinese cook named Chin Kam had been engaged by a wealthy Chinese in No. 1 street to Canton. All the money he earned has been lost in gambling. On one occasion his master paid him some money for the provisions he supplied. The cook lost

SYMPATHY WAS IN ORDER.
But Sam Johnson Was the One Most ly in Need of It.

"Pardon me," says the sympathetic gent on the station platform, "you seem to be in distress."

The woman addressed turns her melancholy eyes upon the inquirer and replies:

"I am."

"Is there any way in which I might be of assistance?"

"I don't know. I've lost my husband, and—"

"Permit me to offer my condolences. Into each life some sorrow—"

"Save your condolences for him when I get hold of him. We were sitting here waiting for the train to go home when a comic opera company came into the station. One of them was a big, fat blonde, and my husband got up and said he was going to get a drink of water. That was an hour and a half ago, and—save your sympathy, young man, save it for Sam Johnson, of Mudford, who will be in sore need of comforting words within ten minutes after he begins to make excuses to me."—London Titbits.

When the first blast was so strong that it melted the iron, the spectators roared with laughter at what they called "Kelly's fireworks," and laughed for ten years at his "folly."

When Bessemer introduced his process to the British iron makers, they, too, roared with laughter at the "crazy Frenchman," and would not allow the "silly idea" to be mentioned in their records.

The steel rail proposition excited only derision. "Hooh! Shuh! Huhuh!" said the railroad directors when it was proposed to them. But after one road had tried it, the steel rails could not keep up with the orders sent in.—The Sunday Magazine.

WATER WORRIED.

The mistakes made by telegraph operators are often very amusing and sometimes rather startling.

A Washington girl, 16 years old, went west recently, and it was her first trip unaccompanied by some member of the family.

After three days had elapsed and she had received no answer to her telegram, announcing her safe arrival, she decided to send another wire. This is the telegram as received by her fond parents:

"Why don't you write? Am married."

Her mother promptly fainted and her father rushed out, first after a physician, and secondly to wire the chief of police of a western city to look after a young girl, lost, strayed, stolen or married.

After many explanations by wire, it was found that a mistake had occurred in the telegraph office, and that the message should have read:

"Why don't you write? Am worried."

WHY HE STAYS AT HOME.

"Mr. Higgins seems like a model husband."

"Yes, lately. He's home every evening now. You see, his wife got the burglar scare and bought one of those pretty little pearl-handled revolvers."

"Well?"

"Well, as Mrs. Higgins wakes up at the slightest noise, and is very nearsighted, Higgins doesn't take any chances on prowling around the house after dark."

CONVERSATIONAL NICETIES.

The requirements of polite conversation occasionally puzzle the student of the English language, but one who has a governess will soon acquire them all.

Thus a young French woman who was learning English while on tour with an Anglican attendant, exclaimed: "O my, I am all of a sweat!"

"Mais Mireille," exclaimed her attendant, "never use that word again! Horse sweat, men perspire, ladies merely glow"—Youth's Companion.

A QUADRUPED BIRD.

A South American traveler has captured a rare bird, whose interest to science is that it is a quadruped. It is known to the natives as the ciga ana, or gypsy bird. For many days after hatching, before it is able to sy, the young one uses its claws to climb up bushes and trees. The front feet gradually develop into wings. The favorite haunt of this strange creature is among the huge callalike flowers of the tropics, in low, muddy places. In size the ciga ana is about as big as the ordinary pheasant.

INVENTORS HAD LAST LAUGH.

Steel Making by Bessemer Process
Was Ridiculed at First.

The so-called Bessemer process of making steel by injecting air blasts into molten iron was discovered first by an American named Kelly, and known as his air boiling process.

After the iron workers had seen it done, they still would not believe it. "Some crank'll be burning ice, next thing," they said. Some of his customers, when they heard about it, wrote Kelly that they wanted their iron made either in the regular way, and not by any new-fangled method, or not at all.

When the first blast was so strong that it melted the iron, the spectators roared with laughter at what they called "Kelly's fireworks," and laughed for ten years at his "folly."

When Bessemer introduced his process to the British iron makers, they, too, roared with laughter at the "crazy Frenchman," and would not allow the "silly idea" to be mentioned in their records.

The steel rail proposition excited only derision. "Hooh! Shuh! Huhuh!" said the railroad directors when it was proposed to them. But after one road had tried it, the steel rails could not keep up with the orders sent in.—The Sunday Magazine.

WATER TELL A DIAMOND.

Useful Hint for Lovers of These Beautiful Stones.

The jeweler made a small dot, like a period, on a piece of white paper with a lead pencil. Then he held a large diamond over the dot.

"Look through this," he said.

Through the diamond the dot looked precisely the same as before.

"Now look through this," he said, taking up another stone.

Through the second stone the dot was transformed to three dots.

"There," the jeweler said, "is an easy way for the average man to tell a real diamond from an imitation. A dot on a piece of paper, looked at through a real diamond, is the same as before; but, looked at through a fake, it shows double or triple, or it appears blurred, scattered."

BEGGAR'S READY EXPLANATION.

Eugene Higgins at a dinner on his yacht Varuna described a winter he had spent at Nice.

"But the Nice beggars!" he said, laughing. "The splendid, sun-drenched Promenade des Anglais, with its ivory white villas on one side and the blue Mediterranean on the other, is always haunted with these beggars. One of them accused me one morning as I came out of the Cercle Méditerranée, the fashionable French club.

"'Monsieur,' he said, 'one little son, for the love of heaven. My poor wife is starving.'

"'Why, look here,' said I, 'only last week I gave you some money to bury your wife and now you tell me she is starving. How can that be?'

"'But, monsieur,' said the beggar, 'I have a new wife now.'

DISSAUGING A TEMPTER.

A pompous Chicago merchant, arrogantly carrying the signs of his prosperity about him, accosted an acquaintance of his who conducts a successful rescue mission, and said:

"James, I'd like to attend one of your meetings."

"Certainly," rejoined the minister, "but leave your watch and diamonds with the hotel clerk."

"What!" asked the merchant in astonishment, "are not the men of your mission converted thieves?"

"True," answered the mission leader, softly, "but, George, you look so easy and wholesome. Really, I don't want my men to regret that they promised me never to steal again."

UNFORTUNATE MISTAKE.

Collin Hitler was an old colored ditch digger on the farm of a well-known land owner in Virginia. One morning, after having been at work only a few hours, Collin was seen approaching the farmhouse with unusual rapidity, and with a peculiar limp to his usually dragging gait.

With a moan and a sob he claimed, "Lord, massa! I fought I see de biggest tinkle bald I ever did see befo' in my life, wigglin' fro' de mud, an' I took de spade an' whacked dat bald, an' I done cut off mah big toe."

THE RAREST AUTOGRAPH.

"Shakespeare's autograph is the rarest," said the dealer. "There are only seven in existence, and three of these are doubtful."

"The best is in the British museum, in a translation of Montaigne. It cost $15,000, and would sell readily for $25,000. The two next best are in conveyances of property. Three are in Shakespeare's will, but two of these are doubtful, and there is a doubtful one in the folio edition of his plays."

THE SUPREME TEST.

"I have here a letter from a man saying that he was anxious to be loved without his sweetheart's being influenced by any knowledge of his circumstances, good or bad."

"Well?"

"So he wrote me an anonymous letter, asking me to marry him."

Education is making prodigious strides, getting there with both feet as it were. A certain Miss Babson has been appointed assistant professor of Vassar college. She is the champion high jumper of the world.

A new galvanic, magnetic gun is now on the market. As described it is powerless, smokeless, noiseless, soundless and odorless. It will not be many years until everything will be done in decency and in order. People will die struggleless and gasless.

While we sympathize sincerely with all organizations for the benefit of the down trodden farmer, we do not endorse any acts of violence. That the Farmers Organization has done much good cannot be gainsaid, and it would be a pity now to destroy its usefulness. It has been only a few years since farmers sold their tobacco for an average of 3 cents around and on a dragging market at that price, now there is an active market for it at six cents average. All this has been brought about by deliberate thinking and proper organization, and it is to be hoped that the influence and usefulness of all this deliberation and good will not be blighted by some designing selfish politicians misleading by inflammatory speeches, some of those not in position to know the true situation. Crittenden county has never been organized for the control of tobacco.

Our neighboring city has suffered a severe blow in the burning of the Stiggar and Orr tobacco factories on last Friday night, November 30th, as has also the surrounding country. Such conflagrations as that which occurred at Princeton, Ky., on the night above mentioned, affects not only the property owner and city in which the property was situated, but seriously affects every interest of the entire community, both morally and financially. There is an old saying that every question has two sides and no one doubts for an instant but that these night raiders thought they had real grievances. They may have acted under the heat of passion, but "two wrongs never make a right." While we condole with our neighbor, we are very thankful that like conditions do not exist in Marion. There are two tobacco factories located here and one seven miles from here at View, Ky. One of those in Marion is owned exclusively and controlled and operated independently by R. L. Moore who has been an independent buyer for more than twenty years and who owns and controls and has operated farms in Crittenden and Webster counties. Mr. Moore is a member of the Crittenden County Farmers Association, as his interests are identical with the farm and farming. The other factory located here in Marion is owned and operated by Mr. A. B. Jarvis, of Henderson, who has been operating his house here for about ten years and has given universal satisfaction. Mr. Jarvis has always been an independent buyer and is not connected with any one now. The factory located at View is owned and operated exclusively by Hon. A. H. Cardin. He has bought tobacco here for 30 years. He is a farmer and raises tobacco. He belongs to the Dark Tobacco Growers Association and also the Crittenden County Farmers Association. He has no connection in any way with the trust.

BITS OF BYPLAY.

There is an old man in Crittenden county who boasts of his eyesight on every occasion. He is way up in years and says that now he has his second sight. He does not wear glasses. Not so very long ago he was in a certain place where the mountains loomed up about forty miles away in a blue hazy mist. Speaking to his fellow traveler he said, "See those mountains over there? It takes good eyesight to see them. I can see a cow on the side of that mountain. Can you see her?" His fellow traveler replied, "No I can't see her, but I can hear her bawl."

no way to pay it Gus tells his little story of the rain. It seems that he lost quite a lot of fence during the heavy rains we had. At opportune and inopportune times Gus relates what a heavy rain it was. He tells that it fell in torrents. That the roads were rivers and the creeks were lakes. He further tells that he was in the barn and had a gallon and a half bucket when it started raining and thought he better get back to the house. Crossing the road with the bucket on his arm he noticed it was a little heavy when he opened the yard gate. When he got to the house, a distance of 20 yards, he found the bucket full of water. Yes it was a hard rain.

Mr. R. W. Wilson has lived long in Marion. For many years he has been banker and money lender and a man well to do. The easiest thing in the world to do is to lend money. To lend money so you can get the principal and interest is about the hardest thing to do. One day a certain fellow touched Mr. Wilson for a loan and was refused. In an uncertain language the would be borrower referred him to the biblical story in which there was a double funeral.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

Rev. J. H. Butler preached at the Baptist church last Sunday morning and evening.

The morning text is found in Psalms 116-12, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me."

The subject, "The benefits of the Lord and the returns that should be made for them" and was divided into two principal thoughts. First, The character of the benefits; answer to prayer, forgiveness of sin, salvation of soul, adoption, the gift of the spirit, open bibles, preached gospel and a home in heaven.

Second, The returns. We should gratefully receive benefits, faithfully use and improve them, and render best love and service.

In the evening the text was from Luke 23:11, Herod with his men of war set him at nought." The subject was, "Christ set at nought," and divided in to four thoughts: first, the person set at nought, Christ; second, persons by whom he was set at nought, third, reasons why Jesus was set at nought ignorance, wickedness, and unbelief, fourth, consequences that followed.

The pastor of the Methodist church preached last Sunday at 11 a. m. to the children, using as a text, Prov. 8:17, "I love them that love me and they that seek me early shall find me."

Lazy Liver

Suffering the misery and agony that come from your liver being out of order—trying to bear up in the belief that you will be all right in a day or two—are you deliberately neglecting the warning of outraged Nature—committing the blunder of believing that you don't need medicine? If you are, the sooner you commence the use of the better it will be for you. You can't afford to fool with your liver, and you certainly can't afford to be without this great remedy if your liver is out of order. Don't delay.

Both you and your liver will be better "livers" than ever.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Send today.

PRIZE MONEY NEVER CLAIMED.

British Admiralty Has Sums on Hand for Destroying Slave Ships.

The days when prize money was looked upon in the navy as an ordinary source of income are recalled by a notification from the British admiralty of money waiting to be claimed—that proceeds of bounties for the destruction of pirates and of the sale of slave ships.

There is a sum of $25,000 from the sale of slaving vessels captured in the '60s awaiting claimants, also a goodly amount of naval prize money and bounty for the destruction of pirates which nobody applies for.

Some of those to whom money is due are, no doubt, still alive, but if they are dead they probably left descendants who if the names were advertised would be forthcoming to substantiate their claims.

As it is, there is little demand for the money in hand. During 12 months dealt with in the statement issued from Whitehall under $10 have been paid out.—Court Journal.

DAYS OF MALE DANDIES.

Feminine Display Outdone by Duke of Buckingham.

Until the last century, in variety and magnificence, the human male followed the rule of the lower animals that the male shall predominate in brilliance. No woman has ever ruled through pure modesty, there has never been a feminine counterpart of Beau Brummel. All varieties of exploits are male, whether dandy, macaroni or beau—and not because they are exceptions to a general rule of soberity, but because of a superior originality and more forcible and distinguished expression.

In the point of extravagance there never has been until the last century any difference between male and female costume. The duke of Buckingham took 27 suits of clothes to Paris in 1625, one of white uncut velvet set all over with diamonds, worth £14,000. He also wore a diamond feather and diamond buttons and earrings. A curious fashion for men prevailed in 1612 of ornamenting the ear with strings of black velvet ribbon, also of placing a rose behind the ear.

Old Man Made a Guess.

Prof. Strander Matthews, along with his belief in spelling reform, believes in short words and in simple constructions. The simplicity of his prose style as it is manifested in his books is only equaled by his grace. Apropos of simplicity, Prof. Matthews said the other day: "In my youth I once passed the summer in the country. One of my friends an elderly farm hand, visited New York during my country visit and on his return I said to him, employing a word needlessly complex and long: 'Well, Jabez, how did you like the metropolis?'

"What say?" asked the old man.

"How did you like the metropolis?" I repeated.

"Twa'n't open," said he."

Ignorance at a Premium.

Education, according to commander Gambier, was not valued in the British navy in the '50s. The future commander began his life at sea aboard the Retribution with an education which included Greek, an acquirement of which "our second master, who had joined the navy straight out of a merchant ship," made light. "We don't want none of this here kind of hogwash at sea," said my friend. I also quickly discovered that to know anything about music—beyond being able to sing a comic song or play a hornpipe on a tin whistle—was likewise an offense, while the crowning infamy was to be able to talk French or any foreign tongue."

Safety in Coupling.

A new and useful invention is now being tested on the railroads and tramways of Belgium, which promises to do away with the most prolific cause of accidents during shunting.

The apparatus is in two parts, the first an automatic coupling arrangement, and the other an automatic brake whereby if a coupling snaps the detached vehicles are at once brought to a standstill.

On a trial trip in which nearly all the chief railway officials participated, all sorts of tests were made and the arrangement was declared to be a complete success.

Effect of Jealousy.

"It's such a good joke on the Pittsburgers," says the first lady.

"What is?" That they are on the verge of separation?" asks her friend. "Indirectly, yes. You know each of them has engaged a private detective to watch the other, and day before yesterday their two detectives put in a whole afternoon following them in an auto while they were riding in another one. It costs them $10 apiece to learn that they had taken an auto ride together."—Judge.

Britannia.

"Say," sneered the bulldog, "you don't know much about scientific fighting, do you?"

"Perhaps not," replied the porcupine. "If you want to try a little bout with me, however, I think I can give you a few points."

The Single Test.

"Why should a bachelor make the best public candidate?"

"I suppose because he is no single-minded in all his principles."—Baltimore American.

Reprint, News-Herald: "There is at least one effectual, safe, and reliable Cough Cure—Dr. Shoop's—that we regard as reliable, even for the youngest child. For years, Dr. Shoop bitterly opposed the use of opiates or narcotics in medicine, offering $10. per drop to any one finding Opium, Chloroform, or any other poisonous or narcotic ingredient in Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And the challenge is as yet unanswered. Here is one manufacturing physician, who welcomed with much satisfaction, the new Government Pure Food and Drug Law. The public can protect itself at all times, by insisting on having Dr. Shoop's when a cough remedy is needed." Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

An American visiting Dublin told some startling stories about the height of some of the New York buildings. An Irishman who was listening stood it as long as he could, and then queried:

"Ye haven't seen our newest hotel, have ye?"

The American thought not.

"Well," said the Irishman, "It's so tall that we had to put the two top stories on hinges."

"What for?" asked the American.

"So we could let 'em down till the moon went by," said Pat.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY.

Lady Didn't Mean to Lose "Splendid Girl" for a Triviality.

At a meeting of a woman's club in an eastern city, the members discussed the problem of securing and retaining good housemaids. After the session one of them told another member that she had "a splendid girl," and then (in strict confidence, of course), narrated the following incident:

She had attended a meeting of the club the previous week, and upon returning home earlier than expected, entered the house by means of a latchkey. Going upstairs quietly she was surprised, on suddenly opening a door, at seeing her husband in the act of kissing the "splendid girl." Naturally there was surprise all around, but without saying a word the clubwoman returned to the lower part of the house. In a short time down came the maid arrayed for departure.

"What is the matter, Annie?" asked the mistress of the house. "Why are you going at this time?"

"Well," replied the maid, "after what you have just seen I don't think you want me to stay here any longer."

"Don't let that worry you, Annie. Go upstairs and take off your things. If two of us cannot satisfy his propensity for kissing I shall get another servant to assist us."

And that is one woman's way of keeping a "splendid girl" as her maid.

Black Walnut.

Black walnut is produced in this country at an annual rate of about 35,000,000 feet. The larger portion of it now comes from southwestern Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Indiana territory, although there is some scattering growth still picked up in Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia. The most considerable stand of the wood remaining east of the Mississippi river is on the upper waters of the Guyandotte river in West Virginia, says a writer in the Southwest. The home demand for black walnut lumber is only for comparatively small quantities. Its use is largely confined to gun stocks, novelties, electrical work, etc. The chief demand for walnut comes from Germany and Hamburg is the commercial center of the market.

Barnes Explained Why.

Many people in this section remember Augustus Barnes, who for years drove the stage between Tilton and Franklin, before the railroad was built. Dr. Tucker, president of Dartmouth college, tells of riding across from Tilton one day. Just out of Tilton, on the sandy bank of Winnipiseogee river, is located the Tilton cemetery. Dr. Tuncker was occupying a seat beside the venerable driver, and as they passed the city of the dead, he said: "That is a queer place for a cemetery. I wonder why such a spot was selected?"

Barnes' explanation was short and to the point, his answer being: "Easy digging."—Boston Herald.

Pat's Prize Effort.

An American visiting Dublin told some startling stories about the height of some of the New York buildings. An Irishman who was listening stood it as long as he could, and then queried:

"Ye haven't seen our newest hotel, have ye?"

The American thought not.

"Well," said the Irishman, "It's so tall that we had to put the two top stories on hinges."

"What for?" asked the American.

"So we could let 'em down till the moon went by," said Pat.

Is Prohibition Justifiable?

EDITOR RECORD:—In the issue of your excellent paper dated November 23rd, there appeared an article under the above caption, signed by one Milton W. Terry. This gentleman is unknown to me and doubtless to many others, of your readers, but there is a few corrections which I want to make in the above named article, not only for the benefit of the gentleman himself, but also of many others that are liable to be misled by it. In the first place the article referred to was a misrepresentation of the principle of prohibition altogether. The gentleman seems to think that this is to make men temperate and good by legal enactment. This is a mistake. The principle idea and aim of prohibition as its friends and advocates see it is protection and self-preservation from the voyages and deadly evils of a saloon. Now can there be anything, objectionable or unjustifiable in this? Surely not to any one who has any sense of what right and justice are. And then the gentleman seems to intimate and even contend that the principles of prohibition are not only unjust but are dishonest. I wonder if he has ever read the ten commandments, which God gave to Moses on Mt. Sinai, for the moral government of the world to the end of time. If so, it seems strange to us that he did not see that most of those commandments was prohibition in character. If I read my bible rightly nearly every one of them are. And so if we say that the principle of prohibition is unjust and dishonest, we are bound to say according to same law of reasoning that the ten commandments are, for they contain many prohibitions also. For instance we read, "Thou shalt not kill," "Thou shalt not steal," "Thou shalt not commit adultery," "Thou shalt not bear false witness," and etc. Not only this, but the gentleman certainly knows that we also have a great many prohibitory laws of the same character upon our state books. Now would he say that these laws are unjust and dishonest? If not, then why contend that those laws which refer to the prohibition of the liquor traffic and deadly evils of the open saloons are unjust and dishonest? As to this, however, we prefer to rest our case with better and more competent judges than the gentleman who seems to have assumed the cause of the liquor men and ready to champion their interest. And then again our would-be critic seems to insinuate and charge all prohibitionists as being cowards afraid to attack the buyers because they are so numerous and contend themselves by attacking the sellers because they are so few in number. Here again the gentleman is very much mistaken, but this insinuation and charge is too contemptible and low to command a respectful notice, and we pass it to call attention to another objection which he has to prohibition, and that is, it is interfering with his personal liberty. Now in regard to this we are perfectly willing to grant him and his friends all the liberty, both civil and religious they entitled to, so long as their liberty leads them to do right and not to interfere with other peoples liberty we haven't a word to say against it. But whenever their liberty leads them to do wrong and to interfere with other peoples rights as the saloons of the country are constantly doing, then it is time to call a halt, and this is just what the temperance people of this city, and county want to do now. The saloons have imposed upon the rights and privileges of our people long enough, until most of our good citizens have become tired of it and have determined to drive them from our midst as they hope to do next Friday, December 7th. Now let all good citizens rally to their support and let there be such a glorious victory for temperance and righteously on that day that no liquor seller will endeavor to undertake to sell the poisonous stuff in our midst again. As for the array of the distinguished scientists and statesmen introduced at the conclusion of his article and whose opinions your distinguished contributor delights to quote with such a flourish of victory, I haven't a word to say except, that these distinguished scientists and statesmen were only men like the rest of us and were just as liable to be in error on this question as any body else and a great more so than many others who have given special attention to this subject. But enough as to the merits of the article referred to and the corrections of the views advanced therein. I am perfectly willing that the intelligent voters of our city and county shall decide at the polls next Friday, December 7th.

Very respectfully,

J. H. BUTLER.
